Printmaking

TONY WINDBERG
Visual Artist

Artist Tony Windberg has a thing for trees! From his first solo exhibition in 1989 to his South-West 'tree change' in 2005, trees have featured large in his life and landscape art.

Drypoint prints are an easier alternative to etching, not requiring acid. Scratch image directly into the poly plate, ink up, wipe back, then run through the press. Use line and tone to bring our magnificent trees of the South-West to life!

Creating illustrations

GABRIEL EVANS
Author & Illustrator

I'm a WA picture book author and illustrator telling stories with a brush and a pencil. I create my art using a combination of watercolour, gouache, pencil and ink.

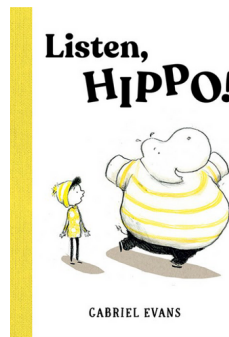

We'll cover hands-on, creative sessions exploring my personal process for creating picture books. Students participate in a range of illustration and writing activities and gain insight into key visual literacy tools. Activities include:

- Character design
- Creating an illustration
- Developing picture book ideas

Interpreting text visually

Felt a plant hanger

FAYE LLEWELLYN
Textile Artist

Faye loves to share the techniques she accumulated from her 15 years of experience including many workshops and loads of trial and error.

Create your own felted wall pod for displaying potted plants and air plants, or to use as a versatile storage pod. During the workshop you'll cover the basics of felting before selecting your preferred colours. Once you've felted your hanger using hot soapy water and lots of elbow grease its ready to use!
