Pemberton Community News

Flying by the seat of my pants is not my preferred method of operation. With Pei-Chen taking a well-deserved break back to her homeland of Taiwan, Kelly studying and me still not up to the fastest on my feet, the last weeks of June were, not stressful, but difficult. I have decided that I will attempt driving with my boot that has to remain on for another 6 uncomfortable and disappointing weeks, and you will probably find me driving at Nanna speeds so please no tooting at me.

We had the pleasure of having Charlise Rock with us from PDHS for work experience during June, which hopefully was a pleasant experience for her also. The CRC loves to be able to help in this way, and it is great to have such wonderful young people in our office. Sure highlights the deficiencies of my older brain!!Charlise has also been kind enough to come in and check on my PCN efforts after school prior to printing.

There are many things coming up in the next couple of months to keep you interested and occupied and you can find details in this edition.

There are some celebrations happening in 2019 including 100 years of the old Pemby School being completed ready for local students, which feels pretty weird, as I am sure my youngest son was in the last group of Year 10's before the "new " PDHS opened. Even more weird is that I am sitting in the school office and have been working in the building for the last couple of years. Our son's Grade 1-2 teacher was in the Visitor Centre late last year and I recognised her voice. "Mrs Croft?" I asked, and she immediately replied "Daniel's Mum". We were standing in what was her Year 1 classroom. After 35 years she still had a little book he had written and illustrated in Year 2, which she informed me she had kept in her precious things box. She had been trying to find some way of getting it back to him and eventually posted it here to the CRC, arriving in absolutely pristine condition. I couldn't help myself from opening it and nearly cried when I saw it. I remember that little book so well and what a joy it was to return it to him and watch him have a laugh as he read it to his teenage sons. Isn't life wonderful? I wonder if it will be kept in the same condition as Mrs Croft did!

There will be many wonderful memories of this old building and we are looking forward to that weekend in October.

The Pemberton Peace Day was held in 1919 celebrating 1 year since Armistice Day in November 1918. That celebration of the end of the War to end all Wars seems very sad when we look at the world today, and yet it would be a fantastic way to re-celebrate 100 years, as we come together in harmony and recognition of all that we differ in and yet all that we have in common. Yes, life is great.

The PVC Rumour Mill

If you have been listening to the rattle of rain on the windows and the drumming on the roof it seems obvious that Winter has arrived with a vengeance. No more are the gardens undecided about whether it is an early spring, late summer or some such. Its out with the waders and woollies mingled with a splashy run to the wood pile to keep the home fires burning. It seems that also arriving with this late winter we have witnessed an influx of tourists to the region.

Reminiscent of times past when winter was the busy season, folk are fleeing the city to warm their cockles in front of open fires whilst sampling the regions fine wine or rib hugging tucker. Numbers are up with smiling traders and tourism operators wondering if the poor numbers of recent times has past. How do we make objective analysis of this I am not sure but perhaps a temporary stability of government before our next leadership change coupled with our ongoing marketing campaign of the region by the PVC is getting a grip.

And whilst businesses are happy campers, there are plans afoot which will finally bear fruit for many of the active groups in town. Some may be aware that the Old School where the PVC and CRC are currently housed also puts a roof over the heads of a few other active groups such as PAG, an artists studio and the model train society. With the relocation to a temporary home at the RSL Hall it would mean that some were to become homeless but that has now been mostly averted with a comprehensive plan to redevelop the RSL site.

At a recent meeting to all the groups impacted, Gail Ipsen-Cutts from the Manjimup Shire revealed a proposed multi purpose development which would satisfy the needs of these groups plus others whilst the Old School building is redeveloped to eventually house the PVC, CRC and Library on a permanent basis.

This proposal which in essence becomes the main community services hub, ticks many boxes and whilst not ideal is satisfactory to get things moving, effectively doubling the current foot print of the RSL building.

- In short the RSL, PVC, CRC, Library and PAG will move into the redeveloped RSL.
- THE PCCI, Museum and Heritage group will move into a redeveloped infant health building currently used by the PCCI and may include additional demountables for the Museum
- Tiny Taddies will remain where is and the model Train group are yet to be found a home.
- It is planned to connect all these structures with sheltered walkways where possible.

Some spaces are tight, however with co-operation from all the partners and sharing of the available resources we think this can work.

The major partners being the PVC, CRC and Library are committed to the proposal and working together in a collaborative way. Certain spaces will be shared as will staffing to facilitate a single working desk for these businesses. The space allocated for the RSL will be cross utilised as a board room, conference and meeting room as required.

This of course frees up the old School building so that funding and works can proceed to develop this as the final resting place for the PVC, CRC and Library following plans already agreed through a comprehensive planning process. When these partners are finally rehomed, the RSL building will be transformed into a Cultural and Arts centre.

All attendees were in complete support for the plan and endorsed the actions of the Manjimup Shire Council and in particular Gail Ipsen-Cutts Director of Community Services to proceed with the proposal and seek funding to implement.

Wonderful Thai With Jeep

Jeep is a legend of cookery in Pemberton, spoiling us with her wonderful spicy and sharp Thai dishes. Has this been an easy road, not likely, but eventful yes. Running the Bangkok restaurant "Thai Friend" for 6 years was the result of learning to cook from a very early age and gaining the confidence that is required in running a commercial kitchen. From here Pemberton has been blessed through her 16 years of providing Thai take-away from the farm and 2 years cooking it out in the Millhouse Café. Jeep's home-grown produce can be found at her roadside stall, along with goodies that you can take home and present your own Thai specialty.

Saturday 3rd August 6pm will be a demonstration and dinner featuring:

Thai Garlic Chive Fritters

Thom Yum Koong (Soup)

Thai Chicken Green Curry and Jasmine Rice

Learn the techniques and flavour combinations that make up your favourite Thai dishes.

Profession: Chef

By Gwen Wenli, Contributor & Yoga Teacher

When chaos is part of your environment where you came from, it is easier to see the intrinsic value of nature. Nature is after all mankind life-support system. It is a privilege to live in an area with a nature-rich ecosystem, and for Diego, it inevitably highlights issues that are happening around the world. "Never take anything for granted" is a good motto to live by. Diego's philosophy (see below), is perhaps our hope to ensure that the Southern Forest will always be pristine and dignified.

The pattern repeats 6 days a week. I get to relax on Monday, my day off

Ups & Downs

Hospitality is one of the most stressful occupations. Where we are expected to think on our feet and exceed customers' expectations.

During these occasions, the compliments from customers on what I had prepared and served, bring me my greatest joy, and boost my spirit immensely. The unfortunate side of hospitality is, it can be all consuming in our life, even though it is enriching and self satisfying, during peaks periods and out of the ordinary shift changes i.e. there are occasions when we have to work combined lunch and dinner shifts through the week, peak periods like public holidays and weekends. This can be challenging as it limits the time for my family and myself.

Philosophy For Life

Stay connected with nature, and try to respect it and not destroy it, because without natural resources we will have a really short life

How does your life story fit with your work?

I arrived in Pemberton at the end of 2014 hoping to find a sponsorship to remain in this beautiful country. I wanted to create a life here in Australia, because as much as I love my home country, it is difficult to remain hopeful in Italy, and be assured that I will be able to live with dignity. So when the lovely owners of the hotel asked if I was interested in applying for a sponsorship for a long-term job, I happily accepted and never left this beautiful town. In around 10 years time, I see myself having my own house and restaurant, they have been my goals my entire life.

JULY 2019 PRAYER

Our Father in Heaven,

In a world full of selfishness and greed, where so many people seem only to be out for themselves, we come to You, the One who teaches us that life is not meant to be like that. You tell us that we are blessed and happy if we are not proud but humble, we're blessed and happy if we express sorrow for the things we do wrong and ask You to forgive us, and we're blessed and happy if we are gentle and caring. You also tell us that if we make it our highest objective to seek and do what is right, to be tolerant and forgiving and if we seek to keep and maintain peace and goodwill amongst people, we are also happy and blessed.

Jesus, You modelled these qualities for us as You lived Your life here below, help us we pray to see life through Your eyes and to see how much happier and blessed this world would be if we started thinking of others more than ourselves, began pursuing truth and right living, and sought to help them rather than putting them down. Help us to be like You, Lord Jesus as we live each day.

We pray in Your Holy and Precious Name, Amen.

HERITAGE AND HISTORY GROUP

The Heritage and History Group have some exciting times ahead with successful grant monies to spend! We are in the process of purchasing a laptop, software and various items that will be beneficial to the running of the Museum.

We are also looking at possibilities for land for a storage/workspace area.

We continue to research various family histories which will be beneficial to the keeping and preserving of the history of Pemberton.

The Pemberton School Building is 100 years old this year and there will be a weekend of celebrations on October 12th & 13th 2019. It is also the 70th year of the 1949 Class. If you were in the class of '49 we would love to hear from you!

There will be an old-time dance held at the Mill Hall on Saturday 12th October and various displays throughout the weekend.

Would you like to be involved in helping/organizing this historical event?

People see the photos on Facebook and are inspired to hold their events there be it a wedding, conference, movie etc. When people inspect the hall they are amazed at the hall's excellent condition and ongoing maintenance. New lino has been laid in the ladies toilets – one of the many ongoing maintenance projects.

We look forward to another month ahead in keeping the hall in pristine condition!

TERRAZZO PAVERS ON MAIN STREET

The 40 terrazzo pavers on the Pemberton main street set with stainless steel cut outs of designs drawn by local children (aged 5-12) of "The things that live around us in Pemberton" were completed eight years ago. We walk on them every day and often admire those images and try to recall who designed each one...

Those children are now all young adults. My grandson James Hancock, for one, is now eighteen! This made me ponder on the other artists involved and I wonder where they are now and if they still create. Some will be working, some still at school, others at Uni.

The Pemberton Arts Group plans to write a series of profiles of those artists, asking them what they think now of their work and what life holds – their dreams and aspirations. If you are one of these artists and are interesting in participating, please contact the Pemberton Arts Group at

pag@outlook.com.au

When asked, James declined an interview but said he would do his work differently now. I think we can all agree this would be true of most of us – we develop and grow each day.

Meanwhile we can admire and appreciate the children’s pavers – a charming, naïve, yet true interpretation of the natural fauna of our region.

Credit must also go to a select group of Pemberton artists led by Joanna Box, Mark Grey-Smith and Anna Czerkasow who set the stainless steel cut outs designed by the children into hand made terrazzo pavers.

THIS PLACE*The Present

As she looked out on the view from her verandah, she was reminded of something said by a novelist during a radio interview – “A city’s story is visible and evident, whereas the story of the Australian Bush is invisible and has to be told.” Looking at this place that they had worked on together for so long, and had put so much effort and hard work into, she reflected on the birds and animals that also called this home. When she woke in the mornings and came down the stairs, she more often than not made mention of the “heavenly racket” she heard. The kaleidoscope of noise and colour that was so many varieties of birds, from the tiny wrens and robins to the cheeky wagtails and noisy parrots, each with their own particular call. The sweetness of the tweets and trills of the cuckoos and Golden Whistlers, to the harsh squeaks and squawks of the cockatoos and crows, yet none jarred against the other, all seemed to be in harmony, except one. The intruder—to this part of the country – the magnificent yet terrible kookaburra. The early morning and late afternoon loud laughing call of the unwelcome guest, a constant reminder that it did not belong here. Her memory of how cruel this intelligent creature could be included watching one swoop on a baby red robin for no other reason than to snap off its head with its large and violent beak. The kangaroos and emus whose land this was had no regard for boundaries. She had given up years ago trying to define those boundaries, it was not their fault that the landscape had been changed and parts of it were not supposed to include them. There was a certain relationship between her and them now – they went where they wanted and she kept out of their way.

Unlike other parts of the world with their colourful deciduous forests and woods, this evergreen forest of South Western Australia hid the features of the landscape. In its natural state, hidden from view were the hills, the creeks and gullies, the changes in the soil colour and types, the low trees, shrubs and ferns. Even when you ventured into the undergrowth it was still difficult to determine, with the ever present thick leaf cover below, the prickly bush another intruder – and getting lost was way too easy.

WONDERFUL THAI

The CRC has so much going on that we have just about taken up the entire paper. There are some interesting things happening so we hope you keep up with everything and get yourself booked into one or more of our Winter Workshops. This is going to prove (pardon the pun, sourdough and all) a brilliant weekend with presenters to keep you entertained and informed. We will need your numbers early for materials and catering purposes. If you love food, art and family then this is your weekend!

You may have noticed that we have a couple of guest contributors this month with Tayla Arnold submitting the first of many of her cartoons, and the first instalment of S.D. Lands' writing. If you would like to be a contributor to the Pemberton Community News, if you would like to submit an opinion piece or comment, please feel free to send your ideas and work to pembertoncommunitynews@outlook.com

We are missing our History Corner contribution this month along with Rozzi in Oz. Take care Bill and Sondra and look forward to seeing you next month.

This is your community news and we are grateful for each of the contributions that come across our desks.

You are no doubt aware by now that the Community Garden has returned to the CRC fold, where it belongs and which the CRC is so pleased with. Will this mean a lot more work for your existing CRC staff, of course, but this re-partnering gives the Garden Committee some breathing space with regard to funding and expenses in general.

Some of the changes or reintroduction of previous practices will be with regard to memberships. With a CRC membership you are automatically granted a Garden membership. If you want to be a member of the Garden only that is a $15 per annum subscription or $25 per family. If you have been a member in the past and would like to do so again, please come in and talk to us.

We are looking at introducing a produce market once every 2 months or so, where you can bring your goods for sale. In the meantime, while we are working on the details and infrastructure, you are welcome to come to the garden on the 2nd Saturday of each month from 9am onwards, to either swap or sell your produce and lend a hand in the garden beds.

The Garden has been given some grant funding thanks to Community Garden Grants and those funds will be used to update some of the existing garden equipment and the necessary things required to hold a market. You will be able to have a stall, sell your produce and enjoy the market atmosphere. The Manjimup Bridgetown Times referred to the Garden as the Green Heart of Pemberton and it would be a treat to see it utilised in this way.

There are many improvements that can be made not only in the Community Garden but perhaps in yours also. The CRC, which will now include the sub-committee of the Garden would like to use community resources to assist you in setting up your own sustainable gardening venture. The Garden committee will report regularly to the CRC Board on events, financial requirements, community assistance and much more. Our thanks go to the Uniting Church for their constant support and generosity in the use of the patch.

PIONEERS

The History and Heritage Group are interviewing a pioneer of the Pemberton district each month to enlighten us to the hardship, dedication and contribution these precious people and their families endured to make Pemberton the beautiful area it is today. Many of these families were part of the Group Settlement Scheme and Timber Industry and it is of great benefit to understand a little of how these came to be. This month we are giving a very brief history of the beginnings of life in the Pemberton area. These topics will be expounded in the future.

Michelle Roberts for Lost Perth

GROUP SETTLEMENT

The Pemberton we know today has evolved from the true timber town of the 1930s to be the hub of a multi-faceted community involving agriculture, farming viticulture, fishing and tourism. Initially the population was composed largely of people from the United Kingdom due to 'Assisted Passage' schemes, particularly after the First World War ceased in 1918. Large numbers of Europeans, particularly Southern Europeans including Italians and Greeks, came into the community, again under assisted passage after the Second World War. This also included ex

Prisoners of War who grew to like the country in which they had been incarcerated and forced to work in.

TIMBER

Over this period of the first half of the 20th century, timber was a major source of revenue both domestically and internationally. Sleepers were produced for the expansion of railways, once the white ant problem was overcome, particularly for the Australian Trans Continental line. Also, great Karri timber balks for bridge building around the world and jarrah blocks for road construction in the UK and Australia were in great demand.

Karri was used for building construction and Jarrah was very popular in the production of fine furniture and flooring. This productivity inevitably had a downside. This was long before Government Occupations Health and Safety edicts. There are 115 men named as having lost their lives in the timber industry in the Southern Forest Region of Western Australia.

Trail Town Update 18.6.2019: Mark Hudson

Two meetings were conducted this week, with the goal of working towards Pemberton becoming a WA Trail Town. The working group is following up on the Trail Town event hosted in May 2018, at Pemberton.

The aim of this group is to develop a working plan for the Pemberton Trail Town incorporating all types of trails to leverage funding to promote food, art, wine and adventure with trails. Our existing trails include mountain biking, trail running, bushwalking, horse riding, 4WD, motor bikes / quad bike trails, canoeing, historical interpretative trails, bird watching trails and 2WD trails. This enhances the links already established with the Bibbulmun Track and Munda Biddi Trail.

The focus of the meetings was to complete a draft assessment of Pemberton's current position. This will provide an overview of what we need to concentrate on to promote our trails to locals and visitors.

The local Trail Town group includes:

Jeff Kimpton	Dept of Parks and Wildlife - Donnelly District
David Meehan	Dept of Parks and Wildlife - Donnelly District
Mark Hudson	PVC & Pemberton Mountain Bike Park
Gail Ipsen Cutts	Shire of Manjimup
Evy Appeldoorn	Shire of Manjimup
Graeme Dearle	PVC & Pemberton Discovery Tours
Sue Nidd	Hidden River Estate
Mike Sims	Pemberton community member
Andrew Trappitt	Pemberton Cycling Group

The draft assessment examines a wide range of elements. These include branding, marketing, supporting businesses, community engagement, organisation and management, planning factors, activities, accommodation, services and amenities, attractions, access, existing tracks and trails aesthetic factors, cultural factors and settings and landscapes.

Our existing trails provide a wide variety of experiences for locals and visitors, however developing the opportunity to better market, provide detailed information, maps and conduct events, ensures they can be utilised more frequently and effectively.

Direct support is being provided by the Department of Local Government, Sport and Cultural Industries (Sport and Recreation) and Department of Biodiversity, Conservation and Attractions – Parks and Wildlife head offices during this process.

Dry July

It's that time of year again and Dry July is here. In WA, our Cancer Nurses answer over 8000 calls each year. Going dry and raising funds will make sure that we have a nurse available to take the next call. Going dry will also be beneficial for your own health, with previous participants of Dry July having reported sleeping better and feeling more energised and productive. As well as these short term benefits, long term you will be lowering your cancer risk.

Many people are surprised to learn that drinking even small amounts of alcohol increases your cancer risk and that there is no safe level of drinking alcohol. The World Health Organisation has classified ethanol, the chemical in alcoholic drinks, as a class one carcinogen. As with most carcinogens, it is the long term exposure that increases your cancer risk, so consuming two standard drinks every day over time can be quite harmful. The more alcohol you drink, the higher your risk of developing cancer.

So what should you do? To reduce your cancer risk, we recommend that you limit how much alcohol you drink, or better still, avoid drinking alcohol altogether. If going completely dry isn't your thing, consider making small lifestyle changes to reduce your risk. Have at least two alcoholic free days each week, space your drinks with water, consume no more than two standard drinks in a day, drink slowly, or try drinks with a lower alcohol content.

We anticipate that 11,526 Australians will be diagnosed with cancer this month, so if you are up for a challenge and want to support Cancer Council WA, head over to www.dryjuly.com.au/ cancercouncil and join in the effort. Your health will thank you for it.

Electorate Meetings

The recent two week Parliamentary break has given me time to meet constituents in every town in the Warren-Blackwood, covering topics such as environment, tourism, aged care, and housing. Whenever Parliament is not sitting I try to get around as much of the electorate as I can. If you want to meet to discuss your issue, please contact my office to arrange a suitable time.

Nationals WA Regional Engagement

In July the Nationals team will visit businesses and organisations in the Wheatbelt and Roe regions. It is important we gain a broad understanding of issues outside our own electorate as this strengthens our ability to represent the interests of regional WA. Many topics affect all regions, eg hospitals, aged care, NDIS, mining, agriculture, small business, and drug rehabilitation programs.

Regional Growth Prospects Report

The Regional Australia Institute has just released its national report which identifies Plantagenet as the most specialised area for (wine and meat) food processing employment in regional Australia. The region is also achieving job growth above national and industry trends in tourism and creative industries, with evidence investment in the region could result in significant job growth.

Budget Estimates

Given the evidence in the Regional Growth Prospects Report, it is even more upsetting that Royalties for Regions continues to be gutted by the McGowan Government. During Budget Estimates questioning it became apparent the stated extra $131m for agriculture is actually a combination of Royalties for Regions and Federal money—with no new State funds allocated. This 'smoke and mirrors' strategy of the McGowan Government only works until the facts are uncovered. We also found ongoing funding for the Regional Film Fund is not guaranteed. This fund has attracted filmmakers to WA to produce a number of films including more recently Rams, Dirt Music and H is for Happiness.

St Joe's School News

"Strength through Christ"

St Joe's Got Talent

Our school hall is a-buzz with excited students, parents and teachers who, in anticipation, are ready to be entertained by a selection of talented performers.

These brave students (and Principal!) have passed the audition process, honed their skills and are now ready to share their talents with their eager audience...

St. Joe's Got Talent was a great success, once again, with the audience being treated to a range of acts. The opening item was an awesome display of hula-hooping accompanied by live music and percussion, followed by a violinist and her partner on keyboard. How to make the best paper aeroplane was the next item on the programme, followed by some very flexible gymnasts and a lovely solo poetry reading. Then it livened up even more with a display of Zumba and cartwheels, a short, yet memorable, poem about pizza (thank you Mr Wilkie) and a hilarious dramatisation of the song Baby Shark as the finale.

The talent show truly complements our whole school Making Jesus Real programme, through which the gifts and talents of each child are appreciated, fostered and shared with others as God intended.

It was truly wonderful to witness the range of gifts and talents we have at St. Joseph's School and the creativity, courage and appreciation shown by all our students, whether they were performing or enjoying these talents as part of the audience.

YEAR 7/8
OUTDOOR EDUCATION CAMP

YEAR 9/10
WORK EXPERIENCE WEEK

PEMBERTON DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOL

June has seen PDHS's Secondary students completing a range of hands-on and exciting learning experiences.

Our Year 7/8 students spent a week at the Outdoor Education Camp with Ms Foord, Mr Russell and Mr Hudson. They spent the first three days at the Pemberton Camp School where they practised their bike riding and maintenance, learnt new skills in camp craft, tenting, trangia cooking and first aid, and developed their ability to work and problem-solve as a team. They then set off on their expedition, making their way to Drafty's Campsite where they tented overnight, before concluding their journey through the Warren Campsite, past the Bicentennial Tree and over Heartbreak Trail. Our Year 7/8 students had a great time challenging themselves to ride almost 25km over the two days and demonstrated exemplary resilience and determination.

Our Year 9/10 students delved into the world of work with our annual Work Experience Week. Our Year 10s, along with Mrs Guery and Mrs Kimpton, spent the week in Perth completing work experience at the Equine Hospital, Scitech and DPIRD. Our Year 9 students spent the week at workplaces in Pemberton and Manjimup: the Department of Agriculture Research, DPAW, Pemberton Trout and Marron Hatchery, Holy Smoke Café, Manjimup Aquatic Centre, Pemberton Visitors Centre, Off the Fringe Hairdressing Salon, Little Taddies Daycare, DFES, St Joseph's Catholic Primary School, MB Times and the Pemberton CRC.

Our Work Experience program would not be possible without the generous support of our local community and businesses, and we extend to them our warmest gratitude for welcoming our students into their workplaces and taking such good care of them throughout the week.

Café Opening

GIFT TO SELF EVENT REPORT

yoga, meditate and radiate

A magical day for the Southern Forest, we held our first Yoga and Wellness event at the Pemberton Sports Club. It was well supported by Bridgetown, Manjimup and Northcliffe. Close to 60 participants came to celebrate, practice and connect as One. Together we nourished and nurtured the fullness of who we are and as a whole community. The feedbacks we received were heartfelt, with many looking forward to the next one. Nina Angeloni lead the mindfulness and breath class, Jennifer Birkhead conducted the yoga class and Gwen Wenli provided Sacred Sound Healing. Fourteen yoga teacher training participants received their Foundation I certificates. We had a fire ceremony to close our event with everyone singing the theme song, 'Don't give up on me' by Andy Grammer. Warming original Masala Chai was prepared with breakfast and lunch provided by Hidden River, and several beautiful treats made by participants.

Backyard Buddies

Your monthly guide to pests, weeds & diseases

Dung-nammit!

Dung beetle, Coprins hispanus

To control bush flies (Musca vetustissima), the introduction of dung beetles to Australia has been necessary, as the native dung beetles are inefficient at breaking up the large dung pads of introduced cattle. Twelve species of introduced dung beetles have established in Western Australia, with 10 doing well in the South-West. Eight are widespread:

- Onthophagus taurus, Onitis aygulus, Euoniticellus pallipes and Bubas bison can be found across much of the South-West.
- Onthophagus binodis and Euoniticellus fulvus are throughout the lower South-West coastal district.
- Onitis alexis and Euoniticellus intermedius are in the region extending north of Perth and beyond Geraldton.

In the South-West native beetles are active during winter, whereas the flies that breed in dung are active during summer. Nevertheless, there is still a period during spring and early summer in some years when bush flies cause annoyance.

Beetle categories and species differences.

Dung beetles broadly fall into two categories summer-active and winter-active, while different species of beetles use dung in different ways. Most species excavate tunnels in the soil under or next to the dung pad. They carry the dung down into the tunnels and fashion it into balls in which the females lay their eggs.

Other beetles carve a mass out of the dung and move it some distance from the pad before burying it. Some species simply butt the mass across the ground. Others knead pieces of dung into smoothly-rounded balls and roll them for many metres before burying them. Egg laying subsequently takes place in the soil chamber where the ball has been buried.

At some times of the year some species of beetles shred the dung instead of burying it. This process is still effective in controlling flies.

A shredded dung pad, caused by a high level of summer active dung beetle activity.

However these beetles work, we're happy to have them. They do an important job, in work conditions that would challenge the rest of us.

Further information can be found on our website at www.agric.wa.gov.au. Search for 'Dung beetle'.

When someone asks you about yoga, remember that the postures that come to mind are really only the tip of the iceberg. This wonderful tradition offers so much more. Gwen will share with you the yogic key to human health, just not the physical level, but in all layers of our being.

In the yoga framework, our extended being encompasses five layers. These are referred to "Five Sheaths" in yoga philosophy. The five sheaths are a nested system consisting of the tangible to the more intangible layers, and all the layers influence each other, and function as a system. It gives us a map for navigating the terrain of health, healing, happiness and the authenticity.

Shire President's Message

National Volunteer Week
We celebrated National Volunteer Week a few weeks ago and I again cannot pass up an opportunity to thank the very many volunteers that make up our community, your time, spirit and skills are truly appreciated.

The Alternative Archive Exhibition

This exhibition is a must!
Forty five artists from across the Shire have participated in this project examining the objects, stories and memories that connect us to place.

Powerup Electricity Museum Tour

I recently had the privilege of touring the site for an update on the construction works at the South West Energy Experience. I can assure you that the building and intended exhibition fitout, café and visitor area will be every bit as impressive as the building seems from outside the fence.

Events

A weekend of magnificent weather blessed us for the recent Manjimup 15000 Motocross event held over the long weekend from Friday 31 May to Monday 3 June 2019. I commend Willie Thompson and his team, the Manjimup Motorcycle Club and all volunteers and businesses involved in bringing this now world famous event to our region every year.

Another event bordering on international fame is the Truffle Kerfuffle held at Fonty's Pool on the weekend of 21 to 23 June 2019, which this year again excited food lovers from near and far.

Until next time...Paul
